Dear Alumni Executives and Friends:

Merry Christmas!

Dawson McAllister, an American speaker, radio host, and author notes that Christmas is partly about giving and receiving gifts, it is about celebrating the family and friends in our lives. Along with our biological family members and other friends, we are so happy for the alumni family and friends in our lives because you help to demonstrate the real meaning of Christmas which is something even higher, bigger, and infinitely better. For us, Christmas is about LOVE, and we demonstrate this through the giving of gifts, and the kind words in the cards and text messages we send to each other. We truly appreciate the many messages from our alumni family members because you are helping us live the true meaning of Christmas. We also know that you have sent Christmas wishes to members of your alumni associations, and to your alma mater, and because this comes from the heart and shows genuine concern, again you are demonstrating the true meaning of Christmas, LOVE.

As you care for your alma mater and members of the local community throughout the coming year, you will be celebrating the real meaning of Christmas throughout the year. You will be showing genuine love and care for those in need. It continues to give us joy to help coordinate your activities, organize the annual walkathon and advertise your events through this monthly newsletter. It is because of your love for your alma mater and the local communities in South Florida, the sacrifice that you are making through hours of volunteer work, and your commitment to improve lives that we can say without a doubt that South Florida is better because of your involvement.

The Consul General, Mr. Oliver Mair, and some alumni associations' holiday wishes are printed on pages 3 through 9 and on Page 10, there is a Christmas Video by Shaggy. Enjoy!

*All the Best for 2020!!

HOLIDAY GREETINGS FROM EXCELSIOR ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Season's greetings to our Alumni family!

As 2019 closes down, we can be grateful for the many activities that we staged and the funds we were able to garner for our respective alma maters.

We are all aware of the hard work that goes into staging fundraising events.

However, our passion to create the right environment and provide support for the next generation propels us to keep striving to give back more each year.

Thanks so much to the many corporations and organizations that provide sponsorships for our many events whether in kind or direct dollars.

The board of the Excelsior Alumni Association of Florida salutes all the other Alumni Associations and wish continued success in all your endeavors.

Thanks to Rupert and Sandra for continuing to weave us together and promote the support of each other. Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.
